Handbook of Media for Clinical and Public Health Microbiology

Completely revised and updated, the new edition of the Handbook of Intercultural Training reviews and summarizes the state of the art in the field of intercultural training. Organized into three sections, the book first deals with the theoretical and methodological issues inherent in understanding intercultural relations and training. The second part considers the contexts in which training takes place as well as some specific techniques. In the final section, issues specific to particular parts of the world are dealt with. These include Eastern Europe, China, Central and South America and Israel, which have all faced turbulent times in the last decade.

The Home School Manual

This is the only comprehensive single source reference to all regulations and guidelines for the seafood industry from harvest to marketplace. Presentation of data in over 3,500 'yes/no' questions enables the reader to quickly and efficiently identify areas of noncompliance. Questions are derived from each 'shall', 'should', and 'must' in U.S. and international regulations and guidelines, and each question is accompanied by a complete citation to the regulations or guideline from which it originated. Among the areas covered are: personnel, facilities, raw materials and harvest, process control, equipment, sanitation, storage and distribution, packaging and labeling, recordkeeping, specific seafood commodities, and methods of analysis and sampling. Regulations and guidelines covered include FDA, NFPA, NMFS, APHA, EPA, NSF, OSHA, NCI, USDA, AOAC, NSSP, and CODEX. Easy-to-use appendixes facilitate implementation of regulatory standards by providing: convenient access to all regulations from a particular governing body, regulatory body contact information- cross-referencing by seafood type and regulation/guideline and regulatory forms. This unique volume is an invaluable resource for seafood producers, distributors, exporters, importers, brokers, transporters, retailers, federal and state regulatory personnel, and university personnel.

AMA Handbook of Business Letters
